Nancy Wynne Talks of the Dances This Week—She Speaks of the Postponement of Two Teas This Afternoon—Other Bits of Interest

THE dances as well as the teas are coming thick and fast these days. There's one every night this week. They began with Wednesday, when Dr. Hartigan gave a small dinner-dance for his daughter, Margaret, and Lucy Jett...

"God bless daddy and mother and sister and brother and sportie, and, and good night my darling mother," and tumbled right into bed. NANCY WYNNE.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

Adaptations and Variations of the Fall Mode in WOMEN'S GOWNS & SUITS Especially Created for Individual Types and Tastes

DAYTIME AND DINNER GOWNS 39.50 to 225.00

MODES created at the behest of Bonwit Teller & Co. for a clientele at once discriminating and refined. With subtle touch, master designers take an Egyptian drape and render it more intricate and graceful—give a new interpretation to the neck-line and the cut of a sleeve—apply embroidery in individual ways—and achieve a tout ensemble ravishing and rarely distinctive. Presenting rich velvets, beautiful crepes, metallic fabrics in a fascinating array of colorings.

STREET AND COSTUME SUITS 49.50 to 285.00

From the strictly tailored effect to the elaborate three-piece suit these modes evince exclusiveness in design and perfection in tailoring—employing fine twills, Veldyne, Marleen, Duetyne, Preciosa and Marvella, in navy, Tunisian, Byzantine, Hawaiian, Malay and Morocco. Many are enhanced with beautiful furs.
